Naylor Named Southwestern Head

FORT WORTH (BP)—Robert E. Naylor, pastor of Travis Ave. Baptist Church here and chairman of Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary trustees, has been elected president of the seminary.

The vote of the trustees was unanimous. Naylor, who has guided the seminary's administration since April 20 when the late President J. Howard Williams died, did not immediately announce his decision on the call to be president.

Graham Sets New Quarters

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (RNS) — Billy Graham's team has established permanent headquarters in Charlotte, a spokesman for the evangelist announced here.

Edward T. Darling, the team's executive secretary and business manager, said the new headquarters includes Mr. Graham's personal executive office. The evangelist's home is in Montreat, N. C.

The announcement was made just as Mr. Graham concluded a seven-week crusade in San Francisco which drew a total attendance of 696,525 with 25,575 persons making "decisions for Christ," according to an official report from that city.

The crusade, which opened April 27, originally was scheduled to run for six weeks, but was extended a week.

44 Rallies in Frisco

In his 44 rallies at San Francisco, the Baptist minister drew 35,000 fewer persons than he did for the same number of meetings in New York last year. However, "decisions for Christ" made in the Bay City were about 2,000 more than those in New York.

Mr. Graham is scheduled to hold a week of rallies at Sacramento, Cal., June 29-July 6, followed by two days of meetings each in Fresno and San Diego. On July 25, the evangelist will hold a giant rally in San Antonio, Tex., sponsored by various ministerial groups and pastors conferences.

Dr. Graham and his team held a Crusade in Jackson, Miss. in 1952.

The Crusade was declared highly successful.

Routh Says SBC Expansion Program Not Competitive

CINCINNATI, O. (RNS) — Dr. Porter Routh of Nashville, Tenn., executive secretary of the Southern Baptist Convention, said here that "it had never been, nor would it ever be," a policy of his denomination to try aligning to the Convention any church related to some other Baptist group.

He made this statement in an address before the 51st annual meeting of the American Baptist Convention.

Subject of his talk was the 1959-64 Baptist Jubilee Advance

Program, in which seven major Baptist bodies will take part in a mass evangelism effort.

Dr. Routh said that during the advance Southern Baptists were challenging American Baptists and all other Christian groups to join a crusade "to make America Christian."

"America is greatly under-churched," he said. "There are not seats in the 300,000 churches for a third of the members, but the problem is far more serious than the mathematical average would indicate."

Spreading Suburbs

New problems have been thrust upon the church by spreading suburbs, deterioration of the inner city and urban redevelopment, Dr. Routh said.

Southern Baptists have tried to face these problems "realistically," he said, adding that messengers at the annual meeting of the Southern Baptist Convention in 1956 were challenged to think in terms of 30,000 new churches and mission stations or centers of Bible study.

"You can be assured," he stressed, "that Southern Baptists are not entering this program with any sense of competition."

The 30,000 movement is not a church stealing escapade."

Wake Forest Gets Gift $125,000

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C. — (BP) — A $125,000 gift from R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. to strengthen faculty salaries in the sciences has been announced here by Wake Forest College President Harold W. Tribble.

Lee Gallman

State Man Honored

NASHVILLE (BP)—The Southern Baptist Extension Education Association has elected Lee Gallman, Jackson, Miss., director of the Seminary Extension Department of Southern Baptist seminaries, as president. He succeeds Davis C. Woolley, Birmingham, director of the extension program of Howard College.

Harris Anderson, Macon, Ga., director of Mercer University extension program, is the association's new vice-president. William H. McCammon, DeLand, Fla., director of the extension program for Stetson University, is new secretary-treasurer.

W. A. Whitten, Jackson, Miss., associate director of the Seminary Extension Department of the seminaries, is reporter.

Members of the association studied curricula for extension courses and exchanged promotional techniques now used by Baptist colleges and seminaries having extension programs.

American Body Selects Home

CINCINNATI, O. (RNS) — Delegates at the 51st annual meeting of the American Baptist Convention broke a four-day deadlock and voted, 1,477 to 655, to establish the denomination's permanent national headquarters in Valley Forge, Pa.

The Convention's agencies now are in Philadelphia and New York.

In picking the town near Philadelphia, delegates overrode a recommendation by the denomination's commission on headquarters which had suggested the Interchurch Center in New York City. The center, being built on Morningside Heights will house offices of the National Council of Churches and a number of its member communions, their boards and agencies.

The plea was made in a resolution adopted by the Convention at its 51st annual meeting here. It was a substitute for a less strongly worded statement on nuclear weapons introduced earlier by a resolutions committee headed by the Rev. Orlando Tibbitt of Barborton, O. The adopted resolution was passed on a motion by Dr. L. B. Mosley of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Commended Government

The denomination also commended the government for proposing a Geneva meeting of leading scientists and others to design an inspection system under the UN for supervising cessation of atomic tests.

United States leaders were called upon, in another action, "to increase their efforts to discover a way toward harmony in this world of conflict and frustration."

In other resolutions, the Convention:

Opposed the granting of public funds to institutions owned and operated by religious bodies.

Baptist Insights Can Be Proclaimed During BJA

CINCINNATI, O. — (BP) — The Baptist Jubilee Advance offers the Baptists opportunity to preach their prophetic insights of the Christian faith, according to C. Emanuel Carlson, executive director of the Baptist Joint Committee on Public Affairs, Washington, D. C. In a speech delivered to the American Baptist Convention meeting in Cincinnati, Ohio, June 16, Carlson discussed "The Baptist Genius in Today's World." He said, "The Baptists of the North American continent are just beginning a five-year Jubilee Advance program. This represents an excellent opportunity to revitalize our Baptist witness."

In seeking and proclaiming the true Christian experience we will make our greatest contribution to religious liberty for America and for the world."

Heart of Movement

Delving into the heart of the Baptist movement, Carlson declared that it is "very closely related to religious liberty."

"Our message," he continued, "has been a declaration that God enters personally and directly into the experiences of men in response to our faith."

that man must come alive to God and he will find God fully alive toward him; that in this experience man finds freedom, and the true basis for free institutions both ecclesiastical and political."

"The Baptist genius, then, lies in the insight that man is created and redeemed to live as a free spiritual being under God."

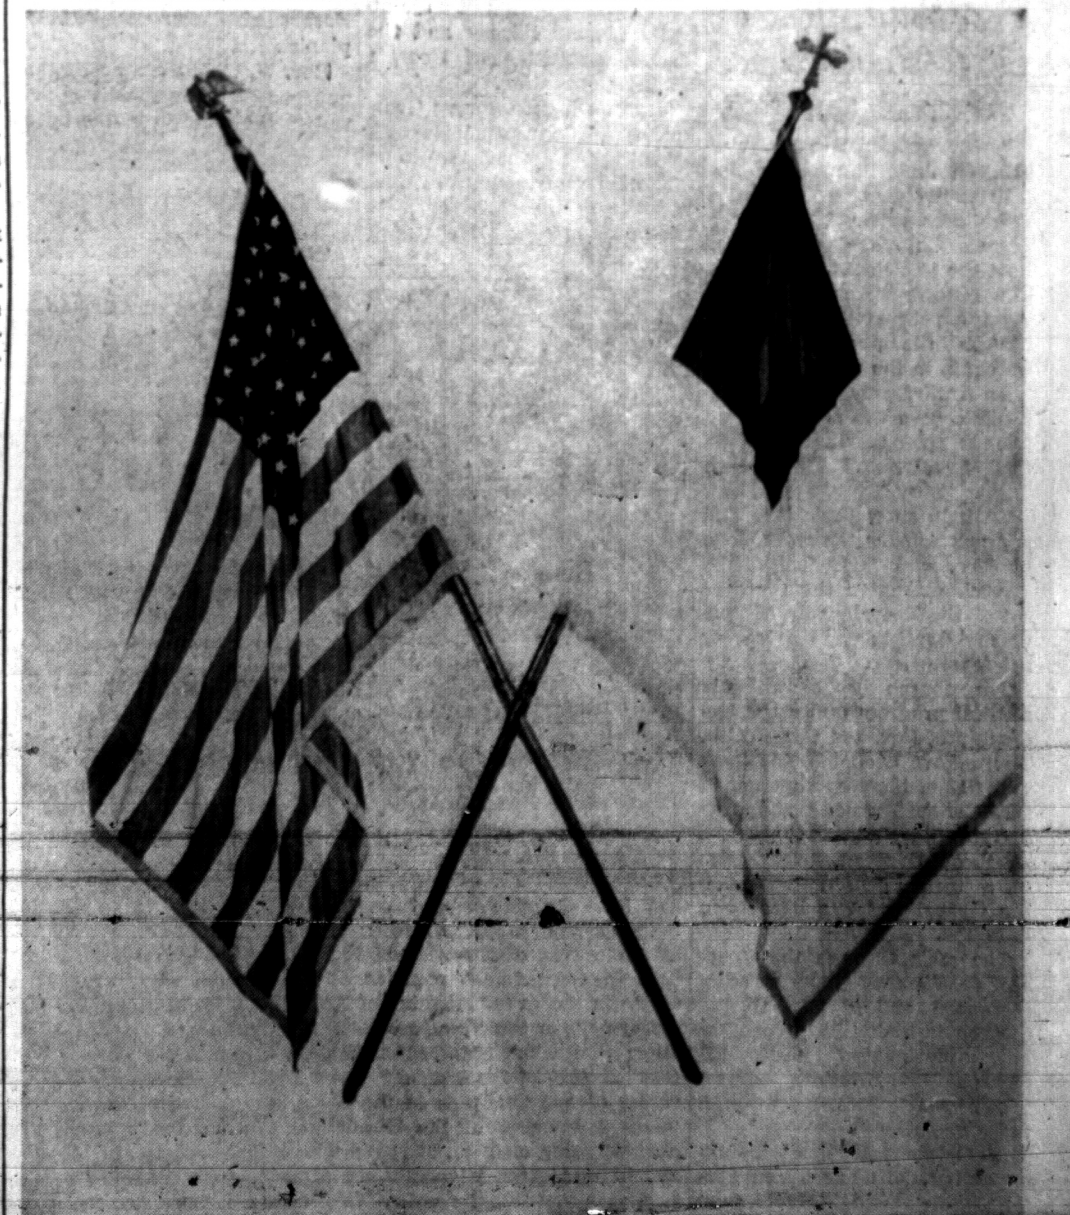

Pointing out that the concern of the Bible is not for institutions Carlson asserted, "not only are the Scriptures silent on the structural relationships between church and state, but if we attempt to read structural formulae into them we are denying the basic genius of our Baptist movement."

The Bible is no more a treatise on social institutions than it is on biology.

One reason ecclesiology is such a field of debate is that there is so little on it in the Bible."

English-speaking Tokyo Church Forwards $722

NASHVILLE (BP) — The English-speaking Tokyo Baptist Church in Japan has forwarded a check for $722 to the treasury of the Southern Baptist Convention, their gift through the Cooperative Program since Jan. 1. The money will be distributed to all phases of Convention missionary, educational, and benevolent work in accordance with percentages approved by the Convention.

Twin Symbols Of Freedom

Southeastern Now Fully Accredited

BOSTON, Mass., June—Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Wake Forest, North Carolina, received full accreditation here today at the annual meeting of the American Association of Theological Schools.

The Association is composed of theological seminaries engaged in education and training for the Christian ministry. Accredited members are those schools that are listed as such by the Commission on Accrediting after a rigorous examination of academic standards.

Southeastern has been an associate member of the American Association of Theological Schools since 1954 and has completed the customary period of probation.

Meaning of Action

Today's action means that Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary founded only seven years ago, is academically now on par with major theological schools in America.

In commenting on the report of the Commission on Accreditation, Southeastern's President S. L. Stealey said, "I am deeply grateful for the dedicated effort over these past several years on the part of the faculty, trustees, and administrative officers to achieve this goal, and I am especially grateful to our Southern Baptist people for their prayers and for the financial support which they have given us through the cooperative program of our Convention."

New School

Southeastern Seminary was organized in the fall of 1951, and began its development on the old Wake Forest College campus, which was purchased by the Southern Baptist Convention for $1,600,000 after Wake Forest decided to move to a new home in Winston-Salem. Since that time the Seminary has spent more than $1,000,000 in repairs, in the construction of two new buildings, a library and cafeteria, and in the completion of the chapel, to be dedicated in September. During this period the faculty has grown from four to twenty-eight and the student body from eighty-six to more than six hundred.

Pachuta Marks 100th Anniversary

The Pachuta Church is observing its one hundredth anniversary Sunday, June 29.

Rev. J. E. Wills, of Newton, a former pastor, will bring the message at the eleven o'clock worship service. Dr. J. C. Murphy, of Fifteenth Avenue Church, Meridian, a former pastor, will preach at the afternoon services.

Rev. J. L. Boyd, custodian of the Mississippi Baptist Historical Society, Jackson, will also speak during the afternoon services. Former pastors and members will be recognized.

For over a century now the Pachuta Baptist Church has served the community and the surrounding area. The church which was organized on September 19, 1857, was known as Hickory Grove Baptist Church. The Rev. W. A. Williams was the first pastor.

On February 12, 1887, the new church building was dedicated and the name was changed from Hickory Grove to Pachuta Baptist Church.

The Church belonged to the Salem Association until 1892 when the minutes show it had transferred to the Chickasaw Association. It joined the Clarke County Association when this association had been organized. The pastor who served the church longer than any other was Dr. J. A. Hackett, of Meridian, who served from 1899 to 1914. The present pastor of the church is J. K. Pierce.

Dowell To Lead History Drive

MACON, Ga. (BP)—Spright Dowell, president emeritus of Mercer University here, will lead Georgia Baptists in their effort to gather more state Baptist historical material in 1958.

The program is designed to speed up the gathering of such material. It is being put on jointly by Mercer library and the history committee of Georgia Baptist Convention.

Mercer's library houses Georgia Baptist Convention's historical collection. Information to be secured includes minutes and histories of churches and associations, biographical sketches, and similar data.

Solie I. Smith

Center Terrace Holds Pastor Appreciation Day

Pastor Appreciation Day was held on June 1, marking the fifth anniversary of Rev. Solie I. Smith as pastor of the Center Terrace Church, Canton.

At the 11 o'clock worship service reports were given showing the progress made by the Church in membership and stewardship in the past five

An Anniversary Tea in the afternoon gave the members and friends an opportunity to extend to Mr. and Mrs. Smith "Best Wishes."

To help show their love and appreciation for the work done by Bro. and Mrs. Smith, the Church presented them with a set of the Encyclopedia of Southern Baptists and a leather briefcase.

The church has shown substantial progress under the leadership of Rev. and Mrs. Smith. There have been 587 additions with 313 of them by baptism. In 1954 Center Terrace ranked second in the State in baptisms.

In these five years four men have been licensed to preach the Gospel and two have been ordained.

The gifts through the Cooperative Program have steadily increased and at present the Church is giving 15 percent of all undesignated gifts. All Church contributions have shown real growth through these years.

In October, 1955, all indebtedness of the Church and Pastor's home was paid. More than $12,000.00 is now in a Building Fund for a new and badly needed Educational Building.

AN ORCHID TO YOU—Nashville, Tenn.—An orchid is presented to Mrs. Ruth Nelson of Nashville, who has been bookkeeper of the Executive Committee of the Southern Baptist Convention since July, 1932. During her nearly 26 years of service, Mrs. Nelson has disbursed $211½ million in Cooperative Program and designated offerings to Southern Baptist missionary and other agency activities. Mrs. Lavon Knies, Executive Committee office secretary, pins the orchid as Porter Routh, Committee executive secretary, watches.—Baptist Press Photo.

New Student Housing Facilities Expected At Carey College Soon

Married ministerial students at William Carey College have the prospect of some low-rental housing which is expected to be available soon.

The Board of Ministerial Education, which is an agency of the State Convention organized for the purpose of encouraging and assisting in the education of ministerial students, met at Carey on June 6 and approved the purchase of a plot of land one block from the campus, containing approximately 50,000 square feet.

The architect estimates that this plot will provide space for eight duplexes. The land is high and level, with two fine rows of large pecan trees and numerous smaller trees of various kinds which will shade the houses and furnish a pleasing atmosphere. Families living in them will be within two minutes walk of the front entrance to the campus.

Property Vested

Ownership of the property is vested in the Board of Ministerial Education of the Mississippi Baptist Convention. Control will be exercised through the two local members of the board, Dr. John Chastain and Dr. Joseph McErnest, Jr.

Building plans approved by the board authorize the construction of the first one or two of the eight duplexes in time for use at the beginning of the Fall Semester. Other duplexes will be constructed as funds allow.

Floor plans of the comfortable duplexes include a living room, a kitchen, a bath, and two bedrooms in each apartment, comprising 705 square feet in each half of the building. A back porch provides a storage room which may contain washing facilities.

To "see Paris" is the aim of thousands of American tourists who come pouring in during the summer season. They fill the hotels with their noisy chatter and crowd the sight-seeing busses to listen to the memorized "spiels" of the guides. But do they see Paris?

On our mission to study Baptist needs and opportunities, we were privileged to see Paris through the eyes of pastors and laymen. Underneath the gaiety of the theatres and night clubs is the somber and sordid life of the city. The people live between two dark shadows—the "black" shadow of Roman Catholicism and the "red" shadow of communism. The menace of the first lies in its grip on the souls of the masses, resulting in spiritual destitution. The menace of the second is its appeal to the dissatisfied and disillusioned, leading them to the substitution of materialistic atheism for religion.

Tense Situation

Our church people do not say much about the tense political situation. Most plain citizens, they say, have become "crisis hardened." France has changed governments twenty-five times since the close of the war! Each time the political situation seems to worsen. Many are sick at heart over the outlook but try to maintain a cheerful attitude. What does the future hold? No one knows—and the sense of insecurity is apparently reaching a climax.

All of this is giving our Baptist message fresh power and relevance. People are asking, "What does the Bible say?" Dr. Henry Vincent, Baptist pastor and veteran leader, tells how advertisements offering New Testaments and Gospel portions are bringing thousands of requests. Bible study groups are being formed in homes and are attracting many inquirers.

An example is that of a couple who were converted in the Billy Graham meeting in 1955. They invited neighbors to their home for Bible Study. The number grew to a dozen. Then the Baptist pastor was called in for help as to what they should do. The original couple have been baptized and others are under conviction and instruction.

Interest In SS

Intense interest is being shown by pastors and laymen in the organization of Sunday school classes for adults. "Why have you not included adults in the Sunday school?" I inquired. The answer was: "Traditionally the Sunday school has been for children only—and we have no adult plan." It was agreed in our Paris Conference to request our Baptist World Alliance Commission to meet with a committee of the churches to explore the possibilities of ob-work for establishment of additional government treatment centers.

Called on Baptist churches to give serious considerations to the "Peace Tax" proposal granting taxpayers the right of diverting up to 10 per cent of their personal income taxes to self-help humanitarian projects under the United Nations.

Lee County G. A. Coronation

One hundred twenty-one Lee County girls received recognition for advancing in G. A. work in the recent Coronation Service at First Church, Tupelo. Mrs. Clifford Deaton, Lee County Association G. A. Director, was in charge of the coronation. Girls from thirteen churches took part in the program. Following the coronation a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall featuring Miss Sylvia G. G. from Brazil, student at Mississippi College. Carol Verrell was presented a cape as Queen Regent; Bobby Gooch became Queen with a Scepter; Barbara Verrell, Nancy Grissom, and Walker, Martha Jean Morgan, and Jean Wilt were crowned Queens. There were 17 Princesses, 30 Ladies-in-Waiting, and 67 Maidens recognized in the program.

taining Sunday school literature and more adequate buildings and the inaugurating of Sunday schools for the entire family. They said that the greatest help we could give them would be in the field of Bible study materials in French—possibly books, instead of quarterlies, that could be re-used and, therefore, less expensive to print.

Baptist Opportunity

A time of upset is a time of Baptist opportunity. The conferences being held, with Dr. Woodbury and me as "resource persons," look to the Year of Evangelism in 1959. Everywhere we go, there is contagious enthusiasm or a great spiritual advance through evangelistic preaching, soul-winning visitation, and educational evangelism. The difficulties are tremendous, but, instead of majoring on the difficulties, the spirit is that of seeing in every difficulty a challenging opportunity. It may be that the tide is turning for evangelical Christianity in disturbed, distressed and priest-ridden France. Pray that it shall be so.

Survey Reveals Low Salaries Plunging Clergymen Into Debt

NEW YORK (RNS) — Poor salaries have plunged many of America's Protestant clergymen in debt and forced their wives to get jobs to supplement the family income, a national religious survey disclosed here.

Conducted by a study group of the Department of the Church and Economic Life of the National Council of Churches, the poll revealed that the average cash income of clergymen totals $4,432 annually for a 60 to 80 hour work week. The findings were based on questionnaires sent to clergymen of nine major Protestant denominations.

Results of the survey will be published in the Fall by Harper's as the concluding work in a series of ten books on ethical issues in current economic life. The whole project is the result of a nine-year NCC study under a grant from Rockefeller Foundation and represents the efforts of more than 100 leading scientists and educators.

According to the salary poll, the lowest paid clergymen are New England ministers who receive an average of $4,018 per year. Southwestern churches give the highest compensation, averaging $4,911 annually. The North Atlantic region ranks second with ministers' salaries averaging about $4,654 a year. Third are North Central congregations whose pastors average $4,603 annually.

Many Wives Work
Commenting on the poor salaries, one Virginia minister said: "It is little short of tragic, the number of pastors' wives who must work in order to support the family."

Many congregations, the study showed, are under the mistaken impression that the pay of the clergy is substantially augmented by such extras as car allowance, housing and gratuities.

Although these average about $1,600 a year, professional expenses usually run heavily into the pastor's cash income over and above the allowance. In many cases, the survey found, the ministers receive no extras regardless of expenses.

A Georgia pastor was cited as an example in this connection. His annual income is $2,400. He spends about $1,600 on his car alone to cover some 32,000 miles on dirt roads on a circuit of five churches and receives no travel allowance.

More than 90 per cent of the pastors reported that they receive housing allowances. But in many cases the houses are old and overly large with resultant excessive expenses for heating and repairs.

Compared to a similar study five years ago the increase in total income is around 25 per cent. But sharply increased costs of living have substantially affected any net gains.

Two-Thirds In Debt

Two-thirds of the ministers covered by the poll are in debt. The major reasons for this are high car costs, ill health, rising prices of food, clothing and other basic necessities.

One Ohio minister wrote: "It should cost a person something to go into church work. But the older I grow, the more I become aware that I don't have any earthly goods — nor a savings account." A clergyman from Indiana summed up his situation when he said: "Most people want the preacher to live on earth and board in heaven."

Because of their poor financial situation, the study disclosed, many ministers are homeless on retirement.

Commenting on the study's findings, the National Council department said:

"The cash salaries paid to ministers... are indeed a weak spot, to say the least, in the church's economic practice."

"Churches have an obligation to support by their own example the highest standards in such matters as wages and labor-management relations."

Associational Missions Supports The Entire Denominational Program

By L. Gordon Sansing
State Secretary
Cooperative Missions

"The Associational Missions Program is a cooperative program in the interest of all the work. It should promote the whole of denominational work in that association." — Solomon F. Dowis in A Mission Program for a Baptist Church.

In Mississippi there are at present 33 associational missions programs, 32 Superintendents of Associational Missions serving 38 associations. It is our hope to see the day when every association in Mississippi will be ministered to by a Superintendent of Missions.

This does not necessarily mean a Superintendent in each association. At the present time there are Superintendents of Missions who serve two or more associations. These associational mission programs are supported by the churches of the association and by an allocation from the State Convention Board. The Cooperative Missions Department of the Mississippi Baptist Convention Board serves as the co-ordinating agency for associational missions.

Leads In Many Areas

The Superintendent of Associational Missions leads in several areas of opportunity. One of the first opportunities is to confer with the associational officers in an effort to perfect all the associational organizations. Through the channel of Associational Missions the work of the association is co-ordinated, churches are re-vitalized, and new churches constituted where needed.

The Associational Mission

Program is a church centered and church sponsored program. It will search out areas where new churches need to be started and where mission points, not with view of being church centers, should be started.

Since Evangelism is the heart of Baptist work, thus becomes a part of the Associational Missions program. In like manner, stewardship program is an essential part of Associational Missions. In short, the associational mission program seeks to do everything that should be done in a local association to promote, strengthen, and extend the ministry of the Baptist cause.

Case History

The following gives an indication of what has actually taken place in the Associational Mission Program in the Gulf Coast Baptist Association. This program was begun February 1, 1947, in a growing area where there were not enough Baptist churches to serve the population at that time.

An estimate at that time indicated a need for at least twenty churches. The major emphasis naturally in a situation of that sort would be on the starting of new churches. On February 1, 1947, there were 18 churches in the Association with approximately 5100 members. Four of these churches were half-time churches, one had no Sunday School and seven had no Training Union. Three reported Brotherhoods totaling 131 in membership.

In the year 1945-46, these churches gave $420 to World Missions through the Cooperative Program. There were 35 Baptist Churches in the association and six mission stations, each of the 41 pulpits has preaching every Sunday morning and evening. All of them have Sunday Schools and Training Unions; 25 have brotherhoods, and only three do not have W. M. U. Total membership has increased from 5100 to 10,850. Sunday School enrollment has grown from 2500 to 8500; Training Union from 527 to 3,104.

Cooperative program gifts have grown from $5420 to $68,381. Property evaluation has risen from $389,000 in 1946 to $2,312,300 in 1957. The first simultaneous Schools of Missions was conducted in 1951 with great success. Every church and mission participating enthusiastically. As a result of the enthusiasm of this effort the associational mission budget was raised from $4,200 to $10,000, thereby making it possible for the Superintendent to do more effective work.

It is not claimed that the associational mission program will receive all the credit for the tremendous growth and development but it is claimed that the association mission program was a mighty contributing factor to it.

Their program has sought, (1) to establish new churches if and where they are needed, (2) to strengthen in any possible way the existing churches, (3) to make it possible for more people to be won to Christ and for them to be trained that they might serve Him more effectively.

Rev. O. B. Anderson is the Superintendent of Missions in the Gulf Coast Association.

THE 1958 LAYMAN'S DAY SOUL-WINNING CRUSADE

By James M. Sapp

More than 6,000 men at the First National Conference of Southern Baptist Men in Oklahoma City last September enthusiastically acclaimed their interest in a Layman's Day Soul-Winning Crusade in 1958. They pledged their support and prayers.

Sidney M. Maddox, an Oklahoma pastor, recently wrote, "A pastor can train one or two men to be soul-winning new and then, but a Brotherhood can lead dozens of men to be witnesses every year. This is Brotherhood's greatest opportunity — teaching men to witness. It can remold a man, remake a church (incidentally grow a

Brookhaven First To Hold Revival

Buckner Fanning, an evangelist from Dallas, is coming to Brookhaven for an evangelistic crusade June 29 through July 6, conducting services at 7:00 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Quoting from the January 28, 1957, issue of NEWSWEEK, we read, "... he (Fanning) is backed by 27 devout Texas businessmen who got together last October to form the Nonprofit Buckner Fanning Evangelistic Foundation."

From the Statement of Purpose of the Buckner Fanning Evangelistic Foundation we copy: "We are attempting great things for God and we expect great things of Him. We believe in a big God; big enough to once again shake the world with His power. God is ready to move, we are ready to move, the world is waiting to be moved—to the task and to God be the glory."

Fanning has been engaged in an evangelistic preaching ministry for ten years. He has traveled in Egypt, the Far East, the Holy Land, Europe and Asia, and most of America visiting in connection with evangelistic ministry.

Before beginning his evangelistic ministry, Mr. Fanning was in the Marine Corps and then a student at Baylor University at Waco, and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary at Ft. Worth, Texas.

"...but first gave their own selves to the Lord..."

A recent $50,000 gift of Mr. and Mrs. Will Whittington to Mississippi College is another instance of the splendid support and service rendered through many years by this noble couple.

Mr. Whittington celebrated his 80th birthday on May 4th. The gift to the college was presented on the sixtieth anniversary of his graduation.

In the class of '98 at Mississippi College William Madison Whittington received the A. B. degree. The next year he received a law degree from the University of Mississippi. Later he married Miss Anna Ward Avon of Clinton, daughter of Professor H. A. Avon.

Mrs. Whittington was the first woman to receive a degree from Mississippi College after the school came under Baptist control. Her interests, like that of her husband, have been closely linked with her alma mater. She served two terms as a trustee of the institution. In 1952 she was the commencement speaker for the year and was awarded an LL.D. degree. She is the only woman ever to receive an honorary degree from Mississippi College.

Along with his law practice and his plantation responsibilities, Mr. Whittington immediately became one of the most active citizens in the community life of Greenwood and the Delta. He was elected to the U. S. House of Representatives where he served with distinction for 26 years.

Mr. Whittington was president of the Mississippi Baptist Convention for two terms (1910-1911) and has served on practically all of the important committees of the state convention. His knowledge of parliamentary procedures and constitutional provisions, plus a fine degree of common sense, has been a mainstay in the November meetings of the state convention.

"Mr. Will" was chosen to give the main address for the Mississippi College centennial in 1938. He also delivered the commencement addresses for the school in 1938 and 1948. In 1948 his alma mater honored him with a Doctor of Law degree.

The recent gift of $50,000 will be used to furnish the Avon Fine Arts Building now nearing completion, according to President R. A. McLemore. This gift brings the total contributions of the Whittington family to well over $100,000 to Mississippi College.

This long and faithful record of service calls to remembrance Paul's commendation of the generous Macedonians (II Cor. 8), "For to their power, I bear record, yea, and beyond their power they were willing of themselves... but first gave their own selves to the Lord." May their kind increase!

Communism And Religion

THIRD OF A SERIES

The Communists rule out the existence of a deity and man's responsibility to that Higher Power.

They revere only human beings.

They have no hope of the hereafter, no consciousness of being accountable to the Divine Judge. They consequently do not have what Christian people would consider higher moral laws, the immutable demands that God makes upon human beings and which are at the base of our aspirations and our concepts of moral conduct.

Lacking a true spiritual basis for existence, Communist ideologists view people as having no other worthy objective than material prosperity and military might. All other human ideals and hopes are sacrificed for these. In pursuit of these goals for the nation as a whole, Communist rulers assume the right to deal with all human beings as though they were the sole property and chattel of the state.

And yet, the Communist faith often invokes the fervor of a new religion. The party member feels that he is one of an elite group who will build the new world of tomorrow. The non-party infidels, he thinks, are in the outer darkness of a decadent and doomed world. For the apostles and prophets of religion he substitutes Marx, Lenin, and Stalin.

Communism is much more than an economic and philosophical interpretation of life. Although it is arrayed against the customary forms of religion, and even though it has declared war upon the Christian God, Communism is itself actually a fanatical religion.

To a striking degree this atheistic philosophy is a counterfeit of Christianity. Christianity has its Bible and so does Communism. The Communist Manifesto written and published (1848) by Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels is the seedbed for all their schemes of socialism. In Communism one can see a caricature of Christianity—in its demands for repentance for party deviation, full surrender of personality, absolute loyalty, and active missionary service.

Communism promises to create a new world, a new social order in which justice and brotherhood are enshrined. It also promises to create a new man who will be free from the old sins and weaknesses of the world. In effect, this godless ideology says, "Ye must be born again," therefore come unto Communism, all ye that labor and are heavy laden!

David Lawrence says, "Those of us who do believe in God avow a faith 'in the rightness of moral teachings as derived from the Bible.... But we are dealing with men who boast of their contempt for religion—they do not believe in God. In the Western world, theism is the basis of every constitutional right, every principle of free government.... The world is not going to be safe for any of us as long as atheistic Communism is enthroned in Eastern Europe.'"

Men who hang around waiting for something to turn up, should begin with their own sleeves.—Quote.

A man's treatment of money is the most decisive test of his character—how he makes it and how he spends it.—James Moffatt.

A Uruguayan Royal Ambassador said in his testimony about R. A. camp: "Camp was wonderful; but, as I looked and saw only two national pastors present and realized that all the other leaders came from other nations, it seemed that God spoke to my heart telling me that Uruguayans had better help win Uruguay for Christ."—Foreign Mission Board.

From N. Carolina

Last Sunday I heard Dr. Chester Quarles deliver a thoughtful sermon on The Lord's Prayer—the Model Prayer—over radio station WBT from the First Baptist church, Charlotte, our state, and Sunday before last I SAW and HEARD Dr. John Slaughter over WSPA-TV from his pulpit in First Baptist church, Spartanburg S. C., and he brought a timely and challenging message. He sends out his service over the above T.V. station each Sunday morning, and is heard and seen by multiplied thousands in S. C., N. C., Ga. and Ala. And, as I recall, both of the trained and gifted men are alumni of Mississippi College.

After finishing the new $259,400.00 rural Baptist church at Elizabeth, close by, we retired and are taking it easy now, nearing our seventy sixth birthday. We thank God for our many happy and fruitful years in Mississippi, and send our Christian love to all of our old friends.

Texas Studies Separation Of Church-State

DALLAS (BP) — The executive board of the Baptist General Convention of Texas voted to appoint a committee to study the biblical principles for separation of church and state.

The decision to have a committee in this field was prompted by question concerning federal grants and loans to religious institutions.

Carl Bates, pastor, First Baptist Church, Amarillo, and chairman of the executive board was authorized to appoint the committee. Its members were not named immediately.

A major factor leading to appointment of the study committee on church-state separation was an offer by Texas Baptists of a hospital now being constructed in Tarkana, Tex.

Builders of the hospital want the Texas convention to assume operation and control of the hospital when it is completed. Federal funds available thru the Hill-Burton Act, have been granted to assist in construction.

The executive board, when the offer was made last year, deferred action. The offer however remained open.

Texas Baptists, like most groups in the Lutheran Baptists Convention, declined to accept federal grants for their denominational institutions.

1 to 3 In 1957

Since 1950, the ratio of baptisms to church membership has been steadily increasing from 1 to 18.8 in 1950, to 1 to 23.0 in 1957. Statistically, last year Southern Baptist reported one baptism for every 23 members. Among the older states, Maryland had the best ratio last year, followed by New Mexico, Illinois, District of Columbia, and Oklahoma. Among all fifty-five states, fourteen had a better ratio than last year, followed by New Mexico, Illinois, District of Columbia, and Oklahoma. Among all twenty-five states, fourteen had a better ratio than the SBC average, while eleven states were below the average, according to the Sun Bulletin.

With Fourteen Pounds Baptists Launch World Mission Program

KETTERING, England, October 2, 1792 — (BP) — In a Baptist pastor's study here there is a snuffbox. Inside is not the usual contents, however, but fourteen pounds, two shillings, and six pence.

Snuffbox Bank

The snuffbox is the depository of "the Particular Baptist Society for the Propagation of the Gospel Amongst the Heathen," formed today at a Baptist pastor's conference. With this significant sum, Baptists hope to begin taking the gospel around the world.

The dozen or more Baptist preachers who attended the conference here today contributed all but one pound of the money in the treasury of the Baptist missionary organization. The other pound was received from the sale of a tract, "An Inquiry into the Obligations of Christians to Use Means for the Conversion of the Heathen," written and distributed by William Carey.

William Carey

Carey, a thirty-one-year-old Baptist pastor, is the prime mover of the missionary organization. In addition to producing the tract and campaigning for a Baptist missionary effort for years, he laid the groundwork for today's action at an association meeting last May.

Andrew Fuller

As a result of a powerful sermon by Carey at the association meeting in Nottingham and the efforts of Carey and Andrew Fuller, an influential Baptist leader, the association was persuaded to begin planning the missionary society.

Carey and others interested in missions have had a long, hard fight. They have been opposed by the Calvinistic influence which holds that "when God is ready to convert the heathen, he can do it without man's help."

English Baptists as a rule are neither wealthy nor influential, and many have opposed the missionary cause due to the heavy expense involved. Even now the fourteen pounds in a snuffbox seems ridiculously small for the launching of such a tremendous undertaking.

But with dedicated men such as Carey and Fuller leading the venture, the Baptist missionary effort can be expected to continue to overcome opposition until "the Gospel amongst the Heathen" becomes a reality.

IN LOVE WITH DIVORCEE

QUESTION: I have been dating a young man that has been married and divorced. His wife had a child by another man and he divorced her. Is it wrong for me to let this relation develop any further? He is a very nice person and I like him very much.

ANSWER: Only God knows beyond question what is right and wrong in such instances. Your exact case is not mentioned in the Scriptures, so you will have to act in accord with Christian love and common sense.

Matthew 19 seems to allow divorce in cases of immorality, which is clear-cut in your boy friend's life. Divorce in that day meant that the person was free to remarry.

Personally, I believe that the person who is sinned against is free to remarry. In this instance that you present, there is grounds for divorce so you should carefully examine this young man's personality to see if he is a good prospect for a happy and wholesome Christian marriage. If there is some question, talk this over with your pastor or some Christian counselor.

I will get many letters disagreeing with this viewpoint, but this is my best interpretation of the New Testament. (Address questions to Dr. Hudson, 116 West 47 Street, Kansas City 12, Missouri)

Virginia Runs Eagle Eyrie All Year Long

LYNCHBURG, Va. (BP)—Perched high on Locke Mountain in the Blue Ridge range outside Lynchburg is a new 350-acre assembly owned by Virginia Baptists. This Virginia assembly, known as Eagle Eyrie, is unique in that it is operated on a year round basis.

Whereas most assemblies operate mainly during the summer months, Eagle Eyrie is open 12 months out of the year. 30 separate conferences were planned for 1958.

Although Virginia Baptists have owned the property only since 1952, they already have a $1½ million dollar investment. 21 churches have built brick, permanent-type lodges caring for 20 to 50 guests each.

State sponsored improvements include a guest hotel accommodating 140, a modern kitchen and cafeteria seating 1,000 (which doubles as an auditorium now), picnic pavilion, miniature golf course, sewage plant, and water and electric service.

All proposed construction must be approved by a committee that checks the type architecture and materials to be used. Only permanent type brick and stone buildings that can be heated for all year use are approved.

Virginia Baptists have a department of assemblies in their state organization, of which W. O. Beazley is secretary. He moved to Virginia to head up the Eagle Eyrie development following nine years as administrative assistant at Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, Tex. Beazley has a doctorate in religious education from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, and he is able to combine administrative ability with practical know-how in the fast growing Eagle Eyrie development.

A skeleton crew including a chef, maintenance man, and secretary lives at Eagle Eyrie during the winter months. This staff is quickly enlarged to handle one day, weekend, or week-long conferences.

One conference was isolated last winter with five foot drifts of snow, but the versatility of Beazley was displayed when he manned a tractor for eight hours, breaking roads so the conferences could go home.

The property was owned at one time by Thomas Jefferson, who also owned nearby Natural Bridge. The name Eagle Eyrie was given by a German baron who was a political refugee from Germany during World War I.

Future plans for development include three more 140-guest capacity hotels, two swimming pools, an artificial lake, auditorium, amphitheater, and at least 10 more individual church lodges.

SINGING IN THE FIELDS! A HAPPY HOME RESULTS

A Brazilian Christian, a Baptist, reaps a twofold harvest as he works in the fields.

All day long, he sings hymns as he works. During hoeing season there worked alongside him a non-Christian who drank and mistreated his wife and children. The hymn singing made this man so furious that at times he could hardly control his temper and refrain from killing the Christian.

But he could not get away from the message of God's love which came to him through the words of the hymns — not even at night when he returned to the hovel where his family lived miserably. He drank more and more in an attempt to escape from facing his sins.

Finally, in desperation, he went to a preaching service in an effort to prove to himself that Christianity couldn't get a hold on him. There he became convicted of his sins and accepted Christ as his Saviour.

A faithful member of a Baptist church, he now takes his family to church every Sunday. Their home is still a hovel; but now it is happy and safe—all because of a Baptist who sings as he works in the fields!

"YOU CAN GROW NOW"

Sibley C. Burnett

The richest dividends can be collected from a thorough followup of the Vacation Bible schools which are being held in June, July, and August.

Each year there are over 200,000 boys and girls enlisted in our Vacation Bible schools who have no contact whatsoever with any church. These boys and girls have been invited and urged to come to a Vacation Bible school, and with most of them it is the first time they have had contact with any church.

Each one of these boys and girls has parents, uncles, and aunts, grandparents, and other relatives. The chances for enlisting these adults in Sunday school are unlimited. The boys and girls themselves are possibilities for enlistment and enrollment in Sunday school.

The Vacation Bible School Standard recognizes this enormous potential by urging that lists of boys and girls, men and women, be given to the proper Sunday school classes for visitation. The parents' names should be on the back of the registration-record card. The registration-record cards of the Vacation Bible school constitute a diamond mine of possibilities. These cards should be guarded jealously. They could be kept as a master file of the unenlisted who have been reached thru Vacation Bible school. No Vacation Bible school record card should ever be utilized itself as a card for information for visiting. Copies of these cards should be made for visiting these live prospects. The pastor and minister of education and all others concerned should see that these registration-record cards are set up in the church office and kept indefinitely as a live prospect file.

The best time to reap the rich dividends is while the Vacation Bible school is in progress. The proverbial "strike while the iron is hot" was never truer than in this situation. If the pastor and the minister of education and others will visit in the homes in the afternoon during the Vacation Bible school, boys and girls, fathers and mothers, and others can be won to Christ and ultimately to church membership. The warm welcome which visitors will receive while the Vacation Bible school is in progress is because the church is doing something vital for the children in the home. Visitation may continue for these prospects after the Vacation Bible school is over, the rest of year. The most valuable time to visit is while the school is in progress. This may work an extra hardship on the leadership for the better result that comes from such an effort.

Pastors have testified that they have enlisted men, women, boys, and girls from the Vacation Bible school registration-records cards in Sunday school and in winning them to Christ and to church membership. These pastors testify that they are baptizing men, women, boys and girls all year long because of the impact of the Vacation Bible school.

This live prospect file of Vacation Bible school registration-record cards should be worked continually all the rest of the year. It is equally as good as a religious census. It is well known that a religious census, unless used, is almost without value. If not used, these registration-record cards will be of little value in causing the Sunday school to grow now.

Why shouldn't each state in our Southern Baptist Convention mark up an enormous growth in Sunday-school enrollment by an effective followup of the great unenlisted army of boys and girls and the men and women who are in the homes of these boys and girls. Our churches have never realized all of the possibilities of this rich field. We could increase enrollment in our Sunday schools each year by 200,000 or more if we would work at this enterprise. The reason we do not increase our Sunday school enrollment is because it requires hard work. Hard work is always easy to avoid. Through neglect and avoidance of hard work we have failed to realize the growth potential in this enormous file of live prospects. Because of the joy the boys and girls have had in Vacation Bible school, the parents are in a responsive frame of mind toward the churches who have ministered to their children. Now is the time to "Grow Now."

This is our fiftieth anniversary. We are proud of those fifty years. They are years marked by close association with our many friends throughout the southeast. They are years of sound, steady progress until today we are the largest manufacturers of church furniture in the world. But our pride is not in our size, but in our most priceless commodity: experience. Fifty years of it.

RELIGIOUS LITERATURE—New Orleans, La.—The lobby of New Orleans Union Passenger Terminal is site of this large rack for display of religious literature. The rack has been arranged so that various groups may have a special place for their literature, and the names of the denominations and religious societies have been lettered on plates attached to the sections where each group's literature may be found. The Southern Baptist container is in the top row of the rack in nearly the center of the picture. In addition to the literature rack, the New Orleans depot has a large directory of churches listing hours of worship.—Baptist Press Photo.

17 Countries At Zurich Meeting

Baptists from 17 countries participated in a week-long conference on evangelism held at the Baptist Theological Seminary, Ruschlikon-Zurich, Switzerland, in May. The conference was sponsored by the European Baptist Federation.

In addition to training men for places of leadership in the Baptist work of Europe, the Baptist seminary in Ruschlikon—which has been in existence almost nine years—has become a rallying point of the Baptist life of this part of the world.

President Speaks

Dr. Josef Nordenhaug, president of the seminary, set the tone of the evangelistic conference in his opening address on "Evangelism and European Baptists: The Road Ahead as I See It."

Other speakers included Edwin A. Bell, representative in Europe for the American Baptist Foreign Mission Society; Henry Cook, acting associate secretary in Europe for the Baptist World Alliance; Gaines S. Dobbins, of Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary, Berkeley, Calif., who will be guest professor of religious education at the Ruschlikon seminary this fall; Joel Sorenson, pastor, First Baptist Church, Stockholm, Sweden, and chairman of the Baptist World Alliance youth committee; and W. E. Woodbury, former secretary of evangelism for the American Baptist Convention.

Dr. Dobbins based his seminars and lectures on the subject, "The Teaching Ministry of the Church in Relation to Evangelism."

Using tact and skill to insure that his presentation did not bear the appellation "made in America," he leaned heavily on the example and principles of the matchless Teacher.

Are All Of Us Listening?

By R. PAUL CAUDILL, Pastor
First Church, Memphis

A recent letter from Novella and Bill Bender of Abeokuta, Nigeria, carries this arresting word:

"During this year while we are giving special emphasis to prayer, will you remember to pray for the churches in Nigeria? Could it possibly be God's will that in an association with 45 churches and preaching points, there is only one ordained minister? Surely, God has called some who have not listened!"

Missionary Bender goes on to say that the problem of support of native pastors is a grave one. As the impact of Western civilization comes to Nigeria, many people there, even as here, think only of the external. There, as here, the churches need trained pastors—dedicated men, who can give their all to the work of the Lord. In our prayers for world evangelization, surely we must not fail to remember Nigeria.

Peace Group Speaks

NASHVILLE — (BP) — "Our best contribution to world peace will be made by a greater effort by all Christian churches and forces to make known throughout the world the Prince of Peace," members of the Southern Baptist Convention's Committee on World Peace declared here.

The nine-member committee held its first meeting since being created at the 1958 session of the Convention in Houston.

Rep. Brooks (D., Ark.), President of the Convention, had asked for the formation of such a committee.

However, he and Sen. Albert Gore (D., Tenn.), another member of the committee, cancelled plans to attend the meeting because of developments in Congress.

Binns Reluctant
Committee Chairman Walter Pope Binns, president of William Jewell College, Liberty, Mo., said that in Hays' absence, he was reluctant to "attempt a statement of what Mr. Hays felt would be the purpose and work of the committee."

Binns asked members of the Committee who were present to give their opinions on how the Committee could do the work committed to it by the Convention.

"1. We must be clear in defining our terms and objectives. Conflicting views of peace have made its meaning ambiguous and have aroused suspicions of disloyalty toward peace movements."

"2. The Christian task is and must ever be to seek peace among men by proclaiming to all mankind the gospel of personal redemption through Christ which calls him to reconciliation with God and his fellow man."

The next meeting of the Committee on World Peace is scheduled in Washington Sept. 15.

Competitive examinations will be given for these awards on two different dates—June 27 and July 15.

Any student who wishes to take this examination on either of the dates mentioned will please get in touch with Dr. Robinson at once.

MEMORANDUM TO: Mama (and Papa, too)
FROM: J. D. Grey, Your Pastor
SUBJECT: Sunday Night and Your Children

During the school year you have told me, "We can't bring the children out on Sunday night for Training Union and church services because they have to get to bed early so they can be ready for school Monday morning." We did not argue with you. However, we noticed many, many parents bringing their children, even the little ones, on Sunday nights and it didn't interfere with the children's school program for here at the close of the school year we know of many instances where these same children did better work than others and walked off with top honors!

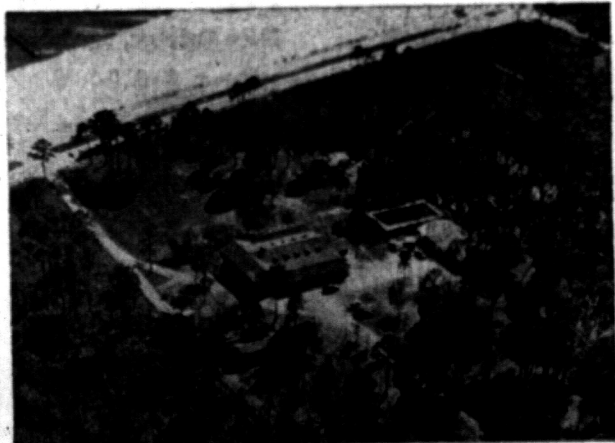

But now, let's face it — school is out! Let the youngsters come to Training Union and church service on Sunday night. We say, "let" because they love to come. They get a real enjoyment out of the various activities that are carried on on Sunday nights. By bringing them, you are showing them that the Lord's Day doesn't end at noon on Sunday, but it includes Sunday night as well.

Vacation time is here. They can have their recreation and fun during the other six days of the week, but train them to "save their Sundays for the Saviour." Don't you plan those Sunday recreational activities that will take them away from the Sunday School, Training Union, and church on the Lord's Day. If you do they will get the notion that the Lord's Day isn't important because it isn't important to their parents. Sure, dad works during the week and wants to have some fun with the kids, but there is time for this. Dad does need to be with the family some, but doesn't this "being with" the family include the most important thing of all—studying the Word of God, training for service, and worshipping the Lord.

One final word: has this "stay-at-home-Sunday-nights" program made you and your family into "television addicts?" If so, your alibi, "You have to go to school tomorrow," won't work. The kids will see through it. They will soon suspect that the things of the Lord's house are not too important after all in your thinking. So, come on, mama and papa, turn off the television, crank up the family car (take the bus, or hitch a ride), bring your whole outfit to Training Union and the important evening service. You'll be glad you did!

Woman's Missionary Union

MISS PEARL CALDWELL writes:
"My dear friends of the WMU of Mississippi:
I have just received notice from the publishers that again you are having Header's Digest sent to me for another year. Truly I am unworthy to have all this love bestowed on me and so continually. From the depths of my heart I do thank you. And in this year of prayer—let's remember our missionaries on their birthdays and often, very often besides! Such a thin line—such marvelous opportunities—they need much prayer help.
And the other heavy burden is our beloved brothers and sisters in communistic dominated places. Many are suffering, souls are still being saved. Jesus promised "I will never leave you nor forsake you." Christ went to China and all these places to stay. Let's help through intercessory prayer. The young pastor of Pinglu who said, "It does not matter so much what we suffer. It does matter that at all times we glorify our Saviour." Then he added "If and when you get to US, your home, ask your people to pray that we may have strength to hold up Jesus under every circumstance." If he still lives he is still witnessing for our Saviour."

New Forward Program Film Teaching Tool

NASHVILLE (BP) — A new sound film on the Forward Program of Church Finance was given a premiere showing at the recent Promotion Conference here. Titled, "The Forward Program in Your Church," the black and white, 22 minute film follows the format of a panel discussion led by Merrill D. Moore, Director of Promotion for the Southern Baptist Convention Executive Committee.
The film is not entertainment or a dramatic presentation with a plot, but rather is a teaching tool which provides information and instruction. Panel members give testimonies of successful use in churches, and share what the Forward Program can achieve in other churches. It is designed to create interest in rather than giving full details about the program. The film's only emotional impact is that which results from an explanation of the power of the Forward Program and testimonies of results following its use.
Production of the film was a joint project of the Executive Committee and the various state Baptist conventions. Each state convention had the privilege of ordering as many prints as desired. These will be available for showings in associational and state meetings and assemblies. A church desiring to use the Forward Program will want to show the film to its leaders as well as to general church showings.
Most states plan distribution on a free rental basis or small service charge. Inquiries for bookings in the various states should be directed to the state executive secretaries or their associates in stewardship promotion. Additional prints may still be purchased by state conventions.
Other participants in the film include Mack R. Douglas, pastor, Tower Grove Baptist Church, St. Louis; and Thomas B. Chaney, director of the Forward Program in Kentucky.

GRAHAM ASSOCIATION TO SEND MISSIONARIES OVERSEAS

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (RNS)—The Billy Graham Evangelistic Association will send missionaries into foreign lands "to aid programs of Christian religions already there." The announcement was made here where Mr. Graham and his crusade team recently established permanent headquarters.
Willis G. Haymaker, director of crusades, said that although Mr. Graham feels the need to evangelize is worldwide, "the demands for him to go abroad have been so great that he can no longer answer them all personally."
Therefore, he said, the evangelistic association will answer these "calls" by sending missionaries abroad. These missionaries, he emphasized, "will not compete for souls."
Mr. Haymaker said the association "hopes to supplement the overseas efforts of other mission programs already established." He added that the association now has a missionary in Japan "and others are being sent to India and Africa."

Cynthia Heritage Accident Victim

Cynthia Heritage, 16, of Ft. Worth, Texas, who formerly lived in Greenwood and Louisville, was instantly killed in an auto accident on Monday in Marshall, Texas, according to daily press reports.

Miss Heritage is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edwin McNeely of Ft. Worth.

Mrs. McNeely was, before her recent marriage to Dr. McNeely, known as Mrs. R. A. Heritage and served as church music director at Greenwood and Louisville before moving to Ft. Worth.

Also hospitalized was Cynthia's step-sister, Marilyn McNeely, 23, and her brother, Robert, 10.

At the time of this writing (Tuesday morning) funeral arrangements had been planned for 10 a. m. Wednesday at the First Church in Greenwood with Dr. J. H. Kyzar, pastor, officiating.

Interment had been scheduled to be held in the Hazlehurst cemetery.

Is The Hour Of Power Too Much?

DALLAS (BP)—Are churches in Texas paying too much for their electricity?

The executive board of the Baptist General Convention of Texas has authorized employment of a rate consultant. The consultant will meet with a special committee of the executive board studying church utility rates.

The board said the rate consultant will also work with Texas power companies in an effort to establish "more equitable charges to churches for electric service."

Churches, it was said, have been paying the same rate as industry for their power. This includes a "demand" charge for having the power available even though it's not used.

Industry uses the power most every day all week long, it was explained, but churches use it only on Sunday, Wednesday night, and for other meetings, and do not "demand" as much power as industry, yet pay the same "demand" charge.

Blessings Of Tithing

Malachi 3:10-12

By WALTER L. MOORE, Pastor
First, Meridian

The prophet Malachi urges people who have been robbing God to become faithful stewards of their money: "Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse." Then he lists the benefits:

1. Full provision for God's work: "That there may be meat in mine house." If Southern Baptists would tithe their incomes, we should no longer see run down church buildings and neglected churches. Our schools, colleges, and seminaries would be provided for, adequate care given the sick and orphans. Missionaries could be sent to every needy field.

2. Blessings upon the tithers: "If I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it." One will hardly see a miserable tither, or a bankrupt one. Tithing is a necessary part of a happy successful Christian life.

3. Stopping the leaks of material wealth: "And I will rebuke the devourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground; Neither shall your vine cast her fruit before the time in the field." These are the devourers on the farm. There are others in the city that are stopped when men tithe. Gambling, liquor, crime, vice, frivolity get very little of the money of tithers.

4. Improved foreign relations: "And all nations shall call you blessed." Russia is gaining ground because she preaches her gospel. We have a message more winsome than communism, but we are not giving it to the world. Tithing Christians can send missionaries who will build more good will in the world than all our diplomats combined.

5. A transformed home land: "For ye shall be a delightsome land." Faithful stewardship would bring improved moral, spiritual, and economic conditions.

Childrens Home Site Decided

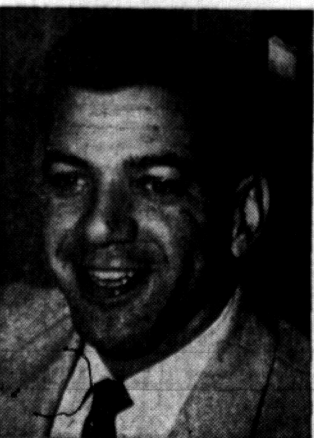

PHOENIX, Ariz. — (BP) — The executive board of the Baptist General Convention of Arizona has voted to name its proposed childrens home here the Baptist Children's Home of Arizona.

Decisions on the name and location of the childrens home were reached at a special called meeting of the board here.

In the same session, the Arizona executive board also voted to issue $250,000 worth of bonds on Apr. 1. Several months ago, it had voted to issue up to $1 million in bonds at some future date.

The first quarter-million dollars will be used to make loans to churches for building.

The Baptist Children's Home of Arizona will be located on property in Phoenix already owned by the convention. Construction is scheduled to begin at an early date, probably during 1958. The first unit will cost an estimated $18,000.

Pastors Advised To Ask Wives

DENVER, Colo. (RNS)—Attention pastors: Want to know how to avoid a nervous breakdown? Consult your wife.

"Your wife is more sensitive to your needs than you are," a psychiatrist told members of the Denver Ministerial Alliance.

"She knows more about you than you do, and she knows it sooner," Dr. Bradford Murphey of Denver declared.

He advised the ministers to enlist the aid of their wives in seeing that they don't work themselves into a breakdown while dealing with pastoral affairs.

"The minister's wife should try to get balance and harmony into your life," he said. "You should give her the lead in planning the family's social and recreational life."

Need Stressed To Reach Whole Man

HIGH LEIGH, England (BWA) — The need for missionaries to teach agriculture as well as religion was emphasized by Mr. David Stockley of Khulna, East Pakistan, in an address at the annual deputation conference of the Baptist Missionary Society here.

"No hungry person can be an effective and responsible church member," Mr. Stockley said. "Many Christians in East Pakistan are hungry all their lives." He described the plight of the poor Christian peasant, hungry before birth because his mother was hungry, and hungry at death.

Mr. Stockley spoke also of the urgency of teaching these peasant people new and improved methods of agriculture, for the land can produce plenty, and there is an abundance of labor. Mr. Stockley's own work at Khulna was described as "a practical attempt by the church to reach the whole man."

— THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON — A Spokesman For God Appears

By Dr. L. Bracey Campbell
A SPOKESMAN FOR GOD.

Background Scripture: I Samuel 2:12-21.

The times were out of joint. Life was at a low ebb. The enemies of the people controlled the land. Religion was in a sorry state. The religious leaders and the people they were appointed to lead were both astray. Which led the other in ungodliness? It is hard to say. It sounds a bit illogical to say that each leads the other in the downward path of degradation, but that might with a deal of truth be said.

Anyhow, things were in a sad plight. There was, however, one genuinely religious woman left, for she went into church to pray. But it is a sad commentary on the religious leadership that, while this woman was praying the religious leader of the people came into the church, saw the woman praying, and being utterly unused to seeing a woman or any one at prayer, did not know what to make of it, and thought the woman was drunk.

But this woman was one in a nation for worthiness. She had a "genuine case," if such a term is permissible of sincere religion. That was her condition, if by that term is meant one who is wholly devoted to God.

It was not from a selfish desire to excel in a given field that she craved a son, but she was completely devoted to God, and her self-forgetting love for Him made her willing to be His handmaiden in the work of His kingdom that she could best do.

She loved Him as He loved and loves, and that is a far different thing from all our selfish loves. "God so loved that He gave," I, you, other people, we so love that we snatch. This woman, Hannah the immortal, so loved that she first gave herself without reserve, and that love included the giving of the fruit of her body to the promotion and enhancement of the glory of the Lord God. Let us then have a word as to the kind of son she bore and gave.

I. SAMUEL THE CHILD OF PRAYER. IS IT THUS your children came into the world? Did you want them for God? If for any other reason, your desire was unworthy of you, and your child came into the world with a tremendous handicap. Damned by his parents' unworthy desire, your little son begins life's race at a disadvantage.

II. SAMUEL WAS A LEADER BORN TO RULE. Yes! But he grew into the skillful leader through intimate personal contact with God. God equipped him with the qualities of leadership, but so did he to Samson and Eli. So does He to many another of whom we never hear, because they never submit themselves under the mighty hand of God that He may polish and discipline and refine. Poor old Eli knew and recognized the difference, and bowed to the superior skill of Samuel.

III. SAMUEL TOOK TIME TO LISTEN. We get into such a stew to do the work of the Lord that we sometimes almost entirely forget to stay in vital touch with the Lord of the work. We are often forgetful of the fact that submissive souls stand erect in gigantic strength, that prayer-bowed knees bear the weight of the gates of Gaza, that prayer-folded hands reap in the Lord's white harvest fields, that lips that testify to His glory sing the same while the songs of Moses and the Lamb, that the hearts that seek entrance through the door of prayer and meditation into the secret place of the Most High do abide under the shadow of the Almighty.

IV. WHEN ONCE SAMUEL HAD HEARD THE WORD OF THE LORD, HE OBEYED IT. There was to Samuel no thought—the slightest of any act of substitution or amendment to the word of the Almighty. But once give Samuel to know the will of the Lord in any situation, and Samuel saw his duty plain and went about with all his strength to do it. In this Samuel was established as the Lord's trusted servant for years together, and for the Lord was the one clear voice that sounded forth the word of the Eternal.

V. SAMUEL WAS AWARE OF GOD'S PURPOSE FOR SAMUEL. He knew that God had a purpose for his life in the lives of the chosen people. There was something God wanted Samuel to do for the people of Israel. Through the people of Israel God was working His purpose for the world, and Samuel was among the agencies or instruments God was using in this great work; but there was something else again.

God had a purpose in Samuel's individual life, and Samuel must be God's helper in working out that purpose. At a much later date, another of God's servants said to some people he loved in the Lord, "Work out your own salvation; for it is God that is working in you, both to purpose and to work." So it was that Samuel worked, as in the Presence, as assisted by the Co-worker, as under the all-seeing eye of the Master Workman.

HUNGARY'S CALVINISTS

BUDAPEST, Hungary — The communist regime took another step toward improving relations with the churches. It cancelled a proposed 25 per cent cut in its aid to the Calvinists.

The Calvinist Church is Hungary's second largest with two million members. Along with all other denominations, it gets subsidies from the communist government for the payment of clergymen's salaries and other expenses. The communists also signed an agreement with Archbishop

PHILIPPINE CATHOLICS CRACK DOWN

MANILA — (EPS) — Following earlier orders to Philippine Roman Catholics to leave the MCA, Archbishop Jose Maria Cuenca of Iloilo City has declared that from May 31 onward all Roman Catholic YMCA supporters and students in Protestant institutions within his area will be excommunicated.

The excommunication will apply to parents or guardians as well as the students themselves. The archbishop stressed that Roman Catholics must educate their children according to the Canon Law of their own church.

The ruling will affect the Central Philippine University (an American Baptist institution) and the Iloilo Mission Hospital School of Nursing within the archbishop's area. If the ruling is extended to other parts of the Philippines, there are expected to be considerable repercussions within the Roman Catholic church because hundreds of Catholic students are enrolled in Protestant institutions and many more support the YMCA and YWCA.

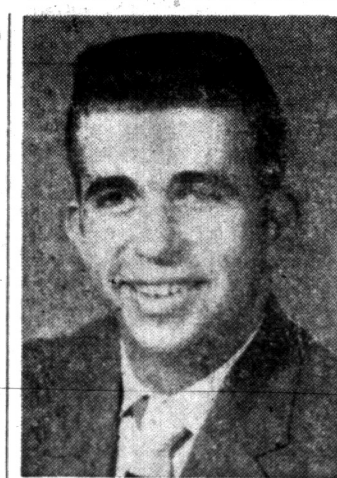

CANTON CORONATION—Thirty-four girls participated in a G. A. coronation service held at First Church, Canton, Rev. David T. Cranford, pastor. Two queens were crowned, Lynn Sims and Carolyn Pace. Mrs. Jodie Coward, W. M. U. President, presided. Mrs. F. C. Coker is G. A. director.

New Jersey to Retract Bus Use

BERKELEY TOWNSHIP, N. J. (RNS) — State Commissioner of Education Frederick M. Raubinger has ruled that only junior and senior high school students of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic parochial school, Toms River, N. J., are entitled to transportation in buses operated by the Board of Education.

The Board of Education of Central Regional Junior-Senior High School here announced it would appeal the ruling. Wilbert J. Martin, attorney for the school board, said that if the State Board of Education supported Mr. Raubinger's order the case would be carried to the Appellate Division of the Superior Court.

At the same time, State Senator W. Steelman Mathis of Ocean County said he planned to introduce a bill in the legislature that would make all children who are "eligible for free education" also eligible for free bus transportation in a regional set-up regardless of age or grade so long as there is no deviation from established school bus routes.

Mistress — "This food tastes terrible. Did you salt it?"

New Maid: "Yes'm but I never used that brand before. It was called Epsom Salts."

An English clergyman once said to a bright little girl in his Sunday School, "If you will tell me where God is, I will give you an orange."

"If you will tell me where he is not," promptly replied the little girl, "I will give you two."

"That's all very well," replied the hero, "but what I want to know is, who pushed me in?"

Aunt Sophie (who lives in the city): And what brought you to town, Henry?

Henry (from the country): I just come to see the sights, and I thought I'd call on you first.—Ex.
